PROCESS ADVICE

NADR is a nominating body. It does not and will not provide legal advice to either party. The following advice concerns how to proceed with the process and the matters that, in the needs of justice and fairness, should be communicated to the adjudicator and to the other party to the dispute.

The Response to Defence/Counterclaim Form overleaf is provided for your help and assistance. If you feel that there is nothing further to add and you do not need to respond in any way you do not have to do so.

The number of headings in the contents section (and the number of attachments) may be added to or reduced as necessary, but should, for the sake of clarity cross reference the section numbers of both your statement of claim and the defendant's statement of defence/counterclaim to assist both the adjudicator and the other party in understanding exactly what it is you are referring to in those previous documents.

Note that you will not normally be permitted to add any new items of claim or grounds in this response document.

The appendices / attachments can be used to provide documentary evidence in support of your claim.

What to Do Next.

Tasks	Check.	Checkpoint
		YES	NO
1	As the referring party in this dispute, you should already have submitted your referral document to the adjudicator and received the defendant's statement of defence/counterclaim.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
2	Have you considered seeking or sought independent advice?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
3	Send this RESPONSE (Mail / E-Mail or Fax) to the adjudicator, to arrive on or before the date specified by the adjudicator. (you may delete this page for the purposes of submission and transmission)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
4	Send a copy of this RESPONSE to the other party.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

After which

- 5 The adjudicator will make whatever inquiries he feels necessary to put himself into the position where he is able to make a decision, which could, but will not necessarily, include holding a hearing and will issue a decision within 28 days of receipt of this referral.

NADR hopes you found this RESPONSE Form of assistance.
